Jacksonville, Florida, May 4.-The most disastrous fire in the history of this city began yesterday shortly after noon in a small factory, started by a defective wire, according to the best be-Hef and burned for nearly ten hours. In that time a property loss estimated at from $10,000,000 to $15,000,000 was caused. According to the city map 130 blocks were burned, many of them in the heart of the business and residence section The estimate of houses to the block is ten, hence 1,300 of them went up in smoke. Many of the finest public and private buildings were destroyed, including hotels, theatres, churches and residences. The casualties can not be accurately estimated. That there will be several seems to be well authenticated. Among them was that of the fire chief 10 Kate Clyde's Fashion Gossip. who sustained a bad fall. SEVEN LIVES LOST.

San Antonio, Tex., May 4.-President McKinley and party arrived at 2:63 o'clock this morning. The president was up at 6 o'clock and sat alone on the back platform of the car reading a newspaper. A great ovation was given him at 9 a. m., in front of the famous Alamo building, in front of which the president and Governor Sayers walked with their hats off. The president re-viewed the throng, made a brief speech reviewed the throops at Fort Sam Hous-ton and the school and college children and left at 12:50 for El Paso.

Austin, Tex., May 4.—The president had his first glimpse of long-horned Texas cattle and picturesque cowboys on range horses yesterday. The president's reception in the Lone Star state was a continuation of the ovation he has received throughout the south. Every honor was shown him and his party, and there was much eathusiasm. Governor Sayers and other prominent state officials met the president at Houston, the first stopping place inside the state, and accompanied him as far as Austin, the capital. There were some interesting features at the reception at share of the estate. But when Mrs. Sells was married to Simon Greenspan, her sister-in-law wrote her in regard to the marriage, and said some bitter things. This had the effect of causing Mrs. Sells. to add a codicil to her will revoking the bequest to Mrs. Colby.

With the exception of the gift of property to Mrs. Selia' sisters and the $1,000 perty to Mrs. Selis' sisters and the $1,000 each to P. I. Bonebrake and Abram Bergan, the property was given without reservation to Alian Selis, the 10 year old son of Willie Sells, the adopted son of Mrs. Selis. The property will however be kept in trust for him until he attains the age of 25 years. Provision is made for the maintenance and education of Alian Selis until he arrives at the age when he will come into his property. Should he die the property will go to the Topeka Orphuns' home.

Topeka Orphuns' home. One of the surprising features of the will is the absence of any clause making provision of some kind for Miss Barbara Tauer, who has been Mrs. Sells' constant ompanion for ten years. The judge of the probate court, W. E.

Fagan, will appoint three appraisers to settle upon the value of the property left by Mrs. Sells.

by Mrs. Sells.

"The property was valued at a much higher figure during the boom times than it was really worth," said P. I. Bonebrake today, "And while it is not definitely known yet what the value of the property that will accrue to little Allan Sells is, it is safe to place it at over $100,000."

A Shate Journal appoints.

A State Journal reporter called upon Willie Sells at the residence on Quinev street today. He had nothing to say in regard to the provisions of the will. "I have not heard it read yet myself," he said, "You know as much or probably more about it than I do. You may see for yourself after reading the will hot the matter stands."

Willie Selis will remain in Topeka where he will make his permanent head-quarters. He will not rejoin his show at

has been filed in the United States Court by J. J. McAlester, the millionaire Choc-taw citizen, and his children against Wm. Busby and Noah Samples, who oper ate a coal mine near the city which is the most important suit in its effect on the existing conditions in this territory ever filed. The suit is a friendly one as be-tween the parties and is meant solely to test the validity of the Curtis bill and the Atoka agreement and is aimed at that portion of these laws which took from the individual citizens of this nation the right to receive royalties for coal mines and vested this right in the nation as a whole. placing its collection and management in the hands of the interior department as trustee for the Choctaw and Chickasaw nations. The conceanwand chickasaw nations. The suit is for the recovery of the royalties due under the old agreement between McAlester and Samples, and which have since the Curtis bill been paid to the United States Indian agent paid to the United States Indian agent by Samples & Bushy, who now own an interest in the mine. The amount involved in the claim is over $5.90 and the case is set for trial at the May term of court. Should the suit be successful, the territory would be again thrown back into a disordered and chaotic state. Itles destroyed, town governments wiped out and everything unsettled and disturbed.

Congressman Charles Cuctis was in this city, going from here to Muskoge to meet the senatorial investigating committee which is now at that point. The whole committee will be here today and Mr. Carlis will return with them. It is an interesting coincidence that his first visit to this city was made on the day when the first suit to destroy the validity and effectiveness of the bill which bears his name was filed.
